

In-house professional training courses

CCIF CPA Limited is dedicated to development of the professional accounting industry and is accredited by various professional bodies to offer in-house training courses to our staff. In November and December 2008, we have organised a series of training programs for staff of all levels, for updating them on all matters relating to the industry which include the revised standards of financial reporting, issues in professional valuation, auditing and taxation, and controversial issues such as the financial tsunami, accumulators and minibonds. Regular in-house training sessions from time to time help ensure our professional excellence and quality service.
